

Co-designing future practice by integrating diverse knowledge and experiences in palliative care transitions

Tara French, Sneha Raman and Divya Jindal-Snape

The Glasgow School of Art and University of Dundee

Future Transitions in Palliative Care

Cross disciplinary programme exploring the future of palliative care transitions for people with life limiting conditions bringing together a diverse group of cross-sector organisations, practitioners, families and people with lived experience of services to ensure multiple voices are involved in shaping future direction of research, policy and practice of palliative care transitions.

Programme Team

Dr Cara Broadley
Dr Deans Buchanan
James Cox
Lindsay Dingwall
Dr Tara French
Libby Gold
Professor Bridget Johnston
Professor Tim Kelly
Jenny Miller
Dr Rodney Mountain
Professor Chris Murray
Dr Jan Pringle
Sneha Raman
Scott Richardson-Read
Dr Ros Scott
Professor Judith Sixsmith
Professor Divya Jindal-Snape

Methodology

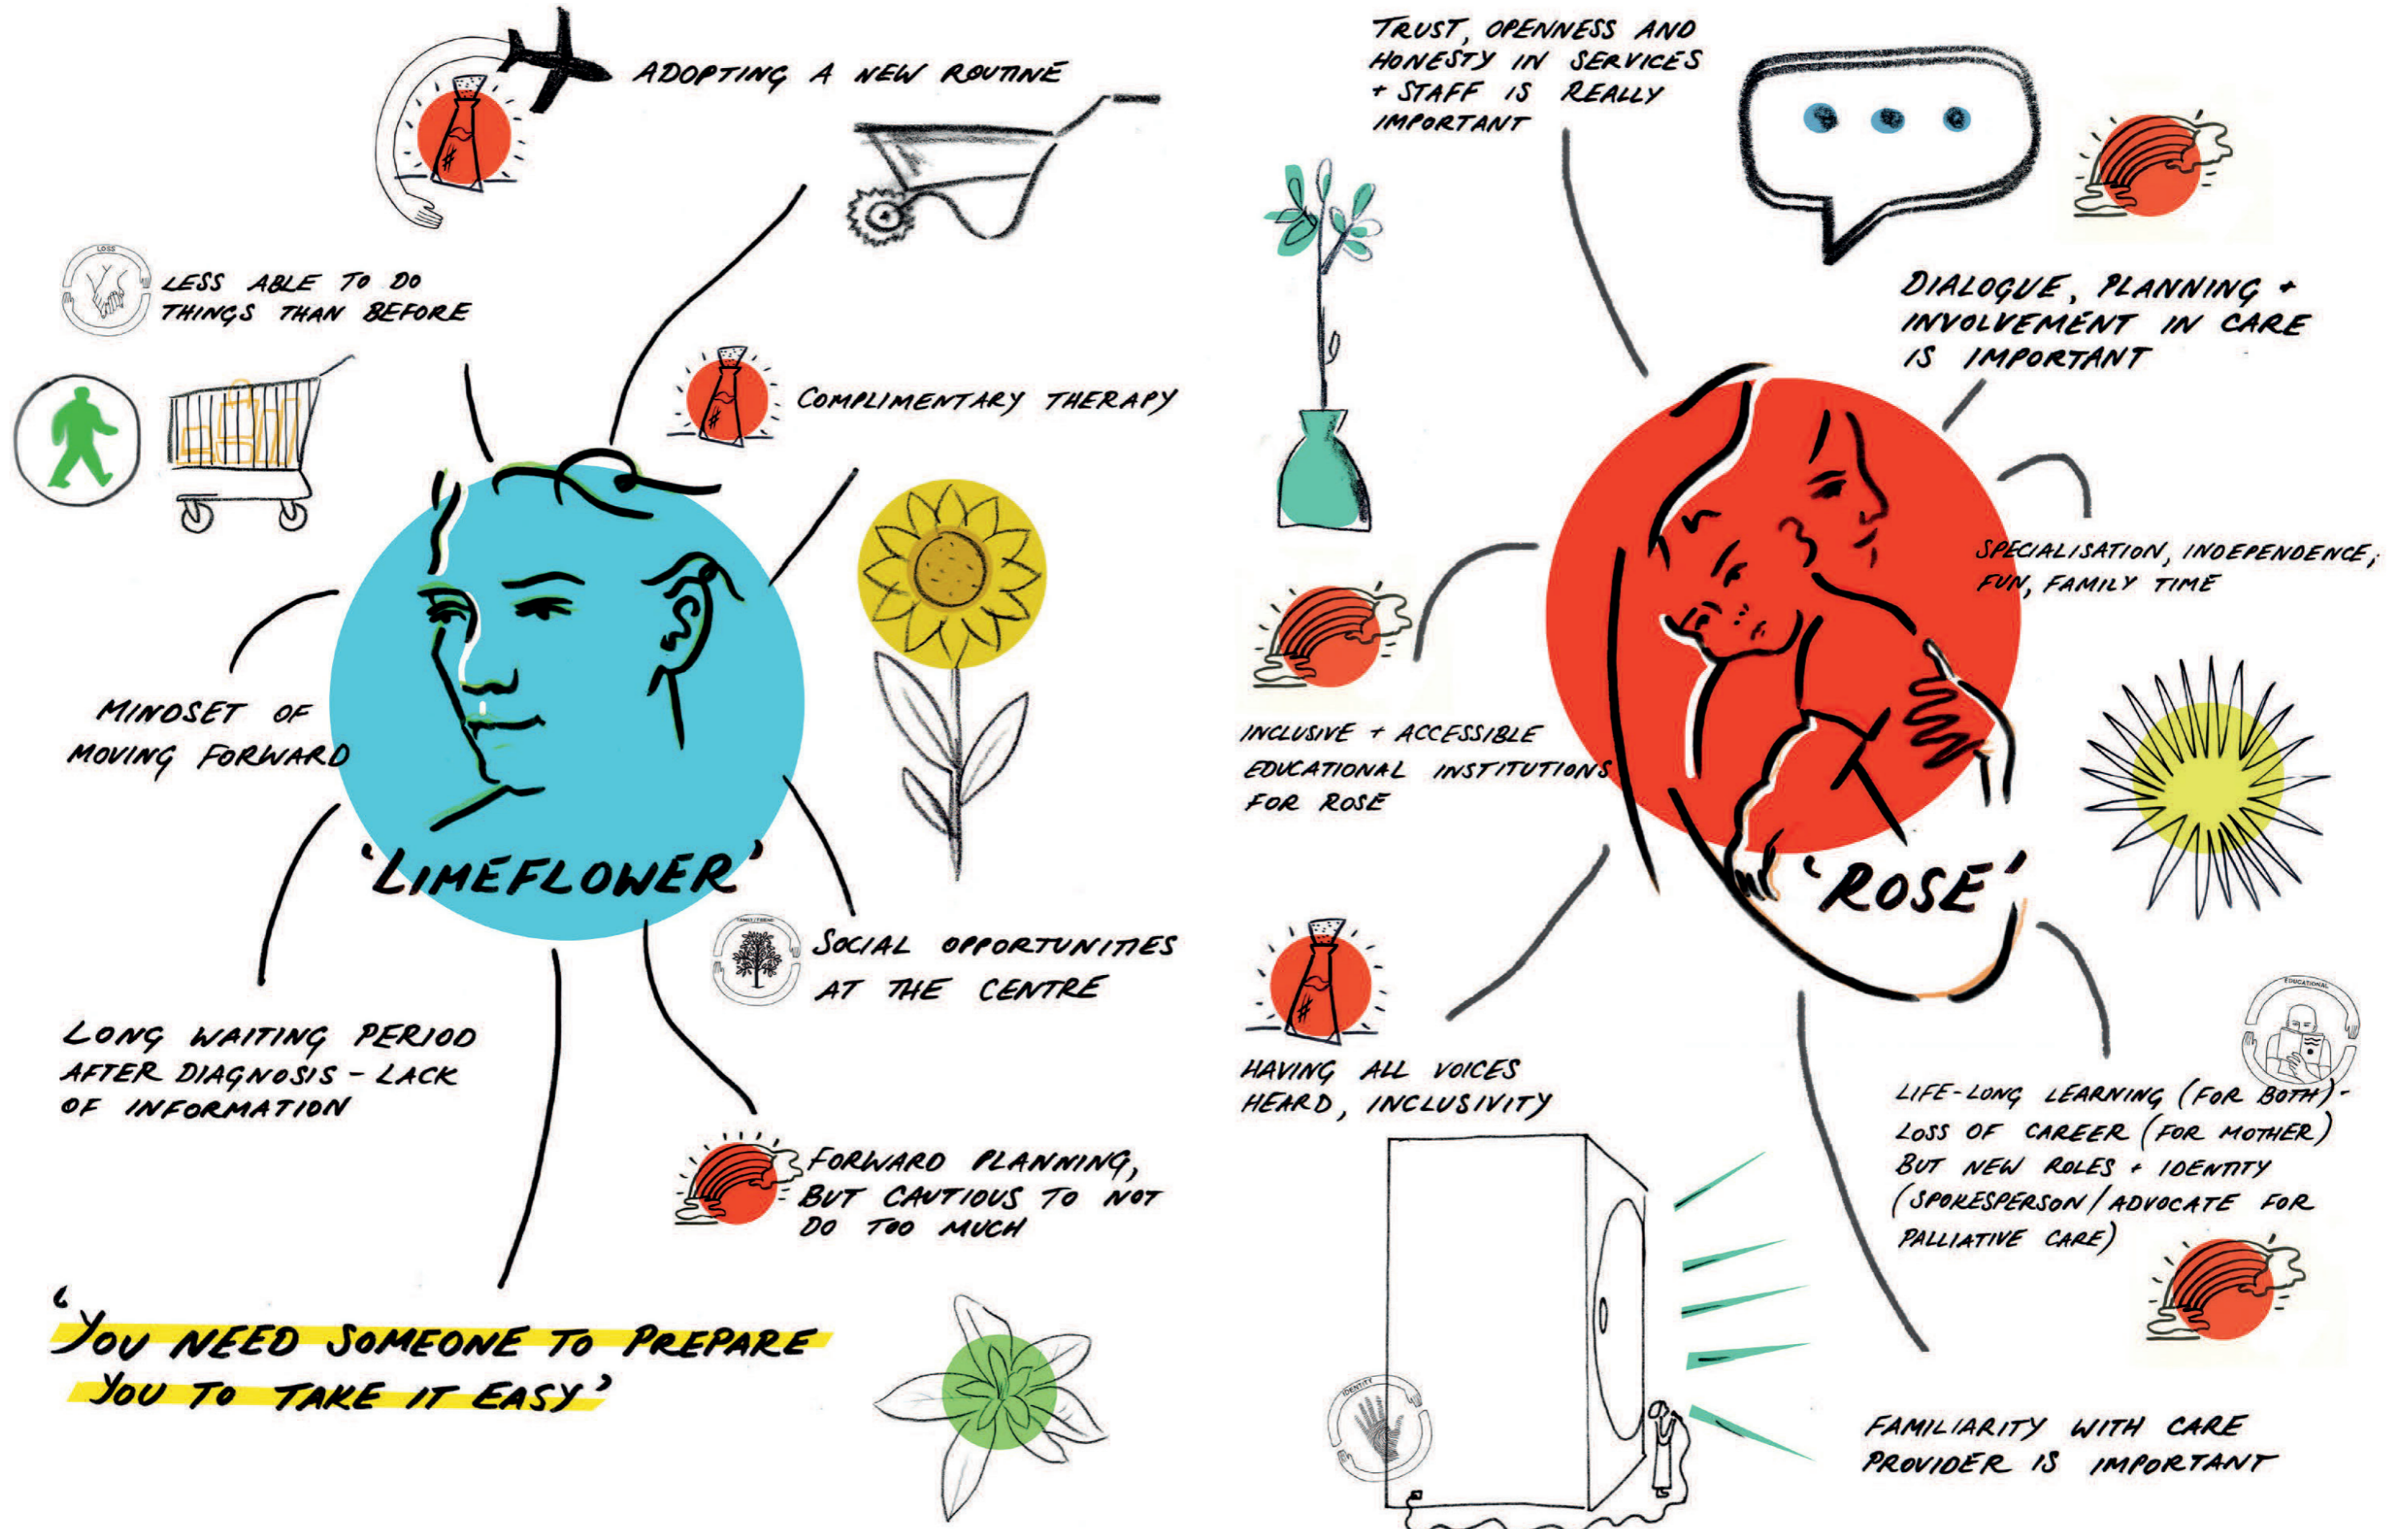

Series of creative seminars and engagements using a participatory design approach, integrating lived experience, research, practice and policy perspectives to provide an inclusive space for knowledge exchange and co-design.

Creative Seminar: Understanding the Context

The Flurries: Learning from Lived Experience

Co-analysis: Synthesising Key Themes

Co-designing Future Transitions

Community Compass

Roadmapping the Future: Prioritising Practice, Policy and Research

Thank you!

Tara French t.french@gsa.ac.uk

Sneha Raman s.raman@gsa.ac.uk

Divya Jindal-Snape d.jindalsnape@dundee.ac.uk

