Fragments and False Starts

Fragments and False Starts is an exhibition by Scottish artist, Graham Lister, at Studio Pavilion. It features recent drawings and paintings, that explore how layering, organising, planning and simplifying are all core parts of what happens in his studio.

The exhibition is accompanied by a limited edition publication, featuring new essays by national and international artists Sarah Arriagada, Rowan Bazley, Dale Holmes, Amanda Thomson and Fraser Whiting, about the ways that artists use (and don't use) the studio as a place for making and thinking.

Exhibition is open 7th September - 1st October 2023

Thursday - Sunday, 11am - 3pm

In Conversation: Graham Lister and Fraser Whiting

Saturday 16th September, 3 - 4pm

At this event, Graham and Fraser will present short readings and their honest thoughts about the ways that they love/ hate/ need/ resent [...] their studios.
