CHANGING LIFE CYCLES

Zombie formalism (Walter Robinson, 2014) = simulacrum of originality

Corecore = simulacrum of resistance?

Zombie subculture = skeleton (shared aesthetics: clothing, art and media favourites, some common ideas) but the meat is rotting, mutating (unfocused desire and means to formulate ideas into action, little sense of community, no particularities bound to geography)

Animated by the sheer speed of social media circulation
