

Her paintings give us two Scotlands: Glasgow kids and eastern seascapes.

Sian Reynolds, Co-Editor of the Biographical Dictionary of Scottish Women on Joan Eardley, Artist.

It's so true, committed citizens are the people who can really change the world.

Ruth Wishart, Writer and Broadcaster on Dr. Helen Crummy, MBE, one of the original Peffermill Primary Mothers Group that founded the Craigmillar Festival Society. Ref: Margaret Mead.

Gaire na sùilean, 's a làmhnan ag innse sgeul a co-aoisean eadar ciurairean Lèiruig is lotaichean Ghabhsainn. [A smile in her eyes and her hands tell the story of her generation from the fish curers of Lerwick to the crofts in Galson.]

Agnes Rennie, Crofter and Rural Development Consultant on Seònaid Ruairidh 'an Mairtin/Jessie MacDonald [1898–1995], grandmother, crofter.

She made me believe that women could achieve anything – and taught me to be brave.

Liz Cameron, The Lord Provost of Glasgow on Cissie Gregory, Mother [1913–1981].

Still listening for the voice of the ootlin.

Aileen MacLeod, Children's Support Worker on Jessie Kesson, Writer.

The written word enhances the mind.

Chris K. Turner, retired Company Director on Dorothy Dunnett, Author and Sculptor.